Committee Report Fall 2018

Summer Field Trip

In September, members of the WRC organized our third annual summer field trip - a tour of the Willamette Water Supply Program's South Hillsboro Pipeline Project.

2019 Section Conference Program

The WRC is looking forward to presenting our technical program at the Section conference in Vancouver. Our planned session topics include integrated use of reclaimed water for supply, source water protection, and managing water resources across jurisdictional boundaries.

Committee Business

We've had some changes in leadership in the past months. Jeremy Hudson, who served as secretary and vice-chair in recent years, chose not to continue serving as an officer this year because of his growing workload and responsibilities at his job as District Engineer at Rockwood Water People's Utility District. Jeremy will continue to be active in the committee when his schedule allows. Neha Subramanyam has participated in committee leadership for the past two years, most recently as secretary. She is transitioning to a new position at the Hillsboro City Manager's Office and will not be continuing to work in the committee. The current officers are DeEtta Fosbury (chair), Andrew Austreng (vice-chair), and Jacob Krall (secretary).

The WRC continues to struggle with maintaining member participation and leadership succession. The committee will remain focused on developing high-quality content for the annual section conference, with other activities taking lower priority unless a volunteer(s) chooses to lead an event. With the 2019 conference program finalized, the WRC will be on hiatus for the rest of 2018.
